

Statement on the currently existing trade embargoes

In response to the continued attacks by Russian forces in Ukraine, the EU - coordinated with the U.S., the U.K., Canada and other partner countries financial sanctions against Russia in several tranches since Feb. 23, 2022. These new sanctions complement and expand the EU sanctions in place since 2014.

Due to the current situation and the existing trade embargoes, we as AP&S International GmbH also undertake not to accept any orders from Russia and Belarus and to immediately stop deliveries of goods to these countries.

Our values are not defensible with an attack that violates international law.

We are monitoring and observing the situation on a daily basis and will adjust our measures if necessary.
